

LOVE+WORK

JAN 16 - FEB 5, 2017

BELIEVE. EXPLORE. GIVE.

Because LOVE demands expression.

The final piece of the LOVE+WORK framework is GIVE. How do we GIVE LOVE? More specifically, how do we give our unique and beautiful talents and gifts away to the world? Our first two weeks - BELIEVE and EXPLORE - had you looking inward. Now, we begin to learn how to project our love out - to make it real and present in the world.

How do you GIVE your LOVE to make your biggest, most meaningful contribution? Our final week will explore that question in these 3 components:

OWN IT.

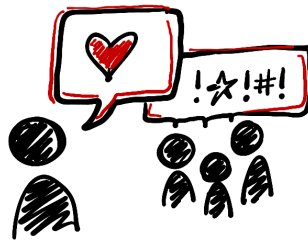

"Walk inside your story and own it."

Before you can Give Love, you need to fully own it, understand it deeply, and make it specific.

Building upon the work done so far, you will deepen your discovery by examining the impact of your unique strengths on important people in your world.

ARTICULATE IT.

"You create what you speak."

You may know and understand your strengths, but it is vital to be able to powerfully express and communicate these things out into the world. Expressing your "loves" to others seals in the accountability. Sharing allows you to step into your very own unique brilliance.

LIVE IT.

"Life is a one-time offer. Use it well."

Your commitment is expressed through action; and your actions speak louder than all of those important words you've crafted. The challenge begins on Day 21. We will collect your commitments and actions as we create a collection of LOVE+WORK stories.

